REFLECTION

Jesus explained to the crowds that God had sent him. He said it was God's will that those who believed in Jesus should not be turned away in the final days. Those who have come to Jesus will be given eternal life. They will be raised up on the last day.

Reflection for Families We often hear this reading and take comfort in it when we attend a funeral mass or memorial service. There are so many mysteries and ideas in scripture that we don't understand. But the hope of this Gospel is very clear for us. We know that we, and those we love, will find ourselves with Jesus on the last day because we know him and follow his ways.

VOCATION VIEW

"Credibility" becomes a household word, not because there is so much of it, but because there is such a lack of it. The Church also needs people who not only practice what they preach, but can also preach what they practice.

Working our land, fighting for our rights

The story of what is happening in Siria Valley of Honduras is happening all over the world. It's happening in Peru, where the people are holding local referendums and saying no to mining and yes to growing food. It's happening in the Democratic Republic of the Congo, where a government commission evaluated a decade of mining contracts to find out what is corrupt and what is acceptable. It is happening in the Philippines, where Canadian mining company TVI has forced many people off their land, including the indigenous Subanon people, removing them from their roots and their ability to sustain themselves. Join Development and Peace in continuing to call on the federal government to hold Canadian mining to account. Learn more about this campaign and the actions you can take at
